Fair play and the Olympic movement have been life-long passions for Gabrielle who grew up as the daughter of an Olympic middle distance runner. Her love of the Olympic Movement has driven Gabrielle to become actively involved in international sports over the course of the past four decades.

Gabrielle volunteered for the Los Angeles Olympic Games in 1984 when she was a college student at the University of California at Santa Barbara and has been credentialed to attend every Olympic Games since 2000. Gabrielle worked in the finance sector and as a statistician before joining the International Fair Play Committee in 2008 as a partnerships and protocol officer. In this role, Gabrielle has organized award ceremonies at the 2008 and 2012 Olympic Games and was the director of the Rio 2016 Fair Play Award project.

In 2011, Gabrielle utilized her finance and business skills when she was brought on as the executive director of Peace & Sport USA.

Fluent in French and Hungarian languages, Gabrielle also currently serves as president of the Center for International Sports Leadership – a non-profit organization that executes and promotes sports events and acted as the Local Host Committee for the ANOC General Assembly in Washington, D.C. last year.
